DEDICATION

TRADITIONS TO AN INSTITUTION OF LEARNING ARE AS HISTORY TO A COUNTRY. THE MEMORY OF A GOOD MAN BRINGS PLEASANT THOUGHTS OF FORMER SURROUNDINGS.

BELIEVING THAT GOOD MEN MAKE TRADITIONS, WE ARE PROUD TO DEDICATE THIS VOLUME OF THE OLYMPUS TO

E. VAUGHN ROSS

BECAUSE OF THE PART HE HAS PLAYED IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF TRINITY HIGH SCHOOL:

AS A MEMBER OF THE FIRST CLASS TO GRADUATE, HE HELPED TO CREATE THE TRADITIONS THAT ARE TRINITY. . . .

AS A MEMBER OF THE FACULTY, HE HAS BY HIS FARSIGHTEDNESS AND HIS FAITHFUL DISCHARGE OF DUTIES INFLUENCED THE PROGRESS OF THIS INSTITUTION. . . .

AS A TEACHER, HIS POPULARITY IS GREAT BECAUSE HE BRINGS HIS ENTHUSIASTIC INTEREST INTO THE CLASS ROOM AND STIMULATES THE STUDENT INDIVIDUALLY. . . .

AS A FRIEND OF THE STUDENT AND AS AN ADVISER OF EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES, HE HAS IMPARTED TO THOSE ASSOCIATED WITH HIM SOME OF HIS GENIUS FOR ENJOYING LIFE AND HAS BECOME THE IDEAL OF A TRUE GENTLEMAN

Alma Mater

Here's to you, dear Trinity,
May we not forget,
That to your fair name, dear school,
We still owe a debt.

CHORUS

Our love we give to thee
We pledge our loyalty
Three cheers for colors, blue and white,
Oh, let us oft repeat
Those words that are so sweet
"Dear Alma Mater, here's our pledge to thee."

And in years that are to come,
Our prayer shall always be
For the school of which we sing
Dear Old Trinity.

Our Campus

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever:
Its loveliness increases; it will never
Pass into nothingness; but still will keep
A bower quiet for us."

In Memoriam

JOHN RUSSELL

Born—March 19, 1918

Died—November 25, 1936

Of all those who daily attended,
The Senior classes at Trinity High,
There was one whose life was ended,
Ended, without a sigh.

J—stands for Jolly and always he was,
O—for Obedient, but let us not pause,
H—the Honesty for which he was known
N—as in Name, with our love has grown.

Although these letters spell John,
Due to grim tragedy from us is gone.
Oh Science! Why did you fail so soon?
For John was to graduate with us in June.

I opened his book and saw on the cover,
Something that made me stop and ponder,
For there he had written, "John Russell '37."
Please, Lord, convince us he's listening in Heaven.

What is there about immortality
That makes some dream with reality?
If all our assumptions are really true,
Then John, I on earth, do envy you.

And now, dear John, to you I'll write,
Inviting you down on graduation night,
And when our diplomas are handed to us,
Consider yourself a Trinity Alumnus.

JACK S. BELOTTE

My heart was sad, my eyelids heavy,
And on my mind I could not levy
Thoughts of a lesson, study, or books;
For suddenly from our midst God took
Our friend—so good, so kind, and true.
All who knew her loved her too.

It was not long after Thanksgiving
When we were told, we the living,
That our dear friend had passed away
On that dark and dreary day.

It was so hard for us to believe,
And difficult for the teachers to conceive,
That a girl so young, laughing and gay
Could have left us on that memorable day.
She had brown hair and laughing blue eyes,
Now in her flower-covered grave she lies.
Oh, the weeks have come and the weeks have gone,
But our thoughts of Betty still linger on.
Now that she is gone we must bear the sorrow
And hope to meet her on the "Great Tomorrow."

Senior Class History

As the day was not far gone, there came to Trinity High School a new and different group of workers, two hundred ninety-six in number. Each was possessed with the desire to do his very best in all that he undertook. Although the surroundings were strange and we looked in vain for some one we knew, we were soon familiar with everything. Having goal in mind and being endowed with the utmost confidence and courage, we thus started on our long journey to success.

During our Freshman year we worked with Jack Martin, Sidney Hoffman, Helen Polen, and Margaret Stenhouse to guide us intelligently in all that we did. With a good start on our journey we were very happy to come back in the fall of 1934 with even stronger determinations to do our best, but to our great sorrow, a few of our number had lingered behind, leaving only two hundred five of us to continue our great task. Yet eager to reach our goal we pushed steadily on, choosing as our leaders, Wayne Ferguson, Thelma Dunning, Nell Butcher, and Mabel DeWitt. With our many accomplishments as enlightenment, we were ready to leave at the school year's close but hope to return again soon. After school we held a picnic at Sunset Beach. Every one had an enjoyable time.

In the fall of 1935 we again returned to Trinity to go a little farther on our journey to success. There were only one hundred fifty-six of us now, but our ambitions increased as our numbers decreased. After all, we can never attain success in anything in life if we give up before we have even tried.

So with William Roberts, Robert Gayvert, Betty Craig, and Sylvia Landrey to lead us on with their guidance we were anxious to accomplish all that we could. Among our achievements was the publication of the "Junior Crier", a school news-magazine which was very successful. The proceeds went to our class treasury. At the close of our third school term, it became necessary for us to leave for a little while, but we did so with the hope of returning very soon, this time to set an example for the rest and to continue on through our last year in our journey toward our goal. After school this time we held a picnic at Sunset, again having an enjoyable time together.

In the fall of 1936 we returned to Trinity for the last time as a class. Our number had now diminished to one hundred forty-one, but we started in with our customary high spirits and high ambitions. Having Mr. Robert Wilson and Miss Campbell as our class advisers, we realized the excellence and necessity of faculty counsel. During this year we held three dances, two Senior Dances and the Commencement Dance, the latter to be held just before the close of school. We selected as our leaders: Daniel Brown, Robert Gayvert, and Betty Craig.

Although our class had now decreased to one hundred thirty four, we must strive onward, for we have nearly reached our goal.

We do not know what the future holds for us, but we can hope with true sincerity that, as we pass each milestone in life's journey, we shall have achieved just a little more than before.

—ELEANOR McADAMS.

LEAVING

Taking leave—

Of the old school upon the hill
To which we'll owe an unpaid bill.

Happy—

To make our way; to earn a name
Worthy to enter the Hall of Fame.

Sorry—

To end our glorious happy years
Alma Mater, we leave you with tears.

Junior Class History

Early in September of 1934, two hundred eighty four bashful Freshmen entered the portals of Trinity Hi. Entering high school was a new experience for us, but rather than pretend we didn't know the ways of Trinity, we pretended we knew it all and we must have looked very comic to the upper classmen.

Soon we settled down to our daily routine and in the second semester chose our advisers, Miss Evelyn Thayer and Mr. David McClay. Our officers were: President, Robert Morrison; Vice President, Milton Wilson; Secretary, Carrie Wilson; Treasurer, Betty Dagg.

In April of that year we held our only class affair, the Freshmen Class Party. A good time was had by all

On a September day of 1935, the same backward boys and girls entered Trinity again, but more experienced—and Sophomores now! Our number had now dimin-

SOPHOMORES

Samuel Perry,

Sophomore Class History

In very few words I'm going to tell
Why the Sophomores have done so well.
With hearts sincere and words so wise
Miss Zediker and Mr. Biery our class advise.

Our Ag. boys have made a name
And to Trinity High have brought much fame
For when they went to our Capitol town
Smith, Kenamond and Spiegel brought the prizes down.

Our athletes Urso, Marra and Biss
Have brought to our school much added bliss.
Of Harris and Talarico, too, we're proud,
When praise, they'd win, from the cheering crowd.

We say when the final curtain drops
As a clever reader Eleanor is "tops".
Many of our number have furnished glee
As they sang in the chorus for you and me.

As all of us know how to play
We made our dances and parties gay.
With bright decorations and orchestra loud
The Sophomores were sure of drawing a crowd.

Of course we're good in our class work,
Principally because we did not shirk.
So right to the top we're sure to go
For, that's why we are here, you know.

FRESHMEN

Emery Ellwood,
President

Freshman Class History

On August 31, 1936, a very frightened group of boys and girls appeared in the gymnasium of Trinity Hi school. Finally they conquered their fears of the upper classmen and settled down to work.

The Freshmen have responded to athletics, musical events, and current activities, and have acquired the Trinity spirit in a very commendable way.

On February 9, we held our first class meeting and were fortunate in securing Mr. E. V. Ross and Miss Amelia Jones for class advisers. We held our Freshman party April 22 at which we became better acquainted.

We are sure that we will try to make Trinity Hi School proud of its 1940 class.

Classes of 1935-1936

Since the Alumni Section this year is devoted to the classes of 1935 and 1936, it was necessary to do some extra work to obtain information concerning the graduates. We want to thank all of the former students for their support in replying to our inquiry, which has helped to make the Alumni Section a success. In the future we hope to make a greater improvement.

A majority of the graduates of these two classes either are going to college or are employed in various industries. Those attending Penn State Commercial College are: Carl Kwaczek, Arthur Landrey, Joe Tomsic, Mary Hazlett, Keith Bigler, Margaret Ross, Charles Razok, Alice Ferguson, Cleo Gray, Edith Dague, Flora Crossbie, and Louis Cimino. Five are going to Waynesburg College: Robert Swart, Effa Mong, Boyd Keys, Ruth Mounts and Dominic Mancini. The following are enrolled in W. & J. College: Myrl Stuler, Frank Biss, Matteson Bash, Edward Adams, Charles Higgins, and Thomas Ellwood. Richard Allsopp is attending the University of Pittsburgh. Dorothy Martin is going to California State Teachers College, and Lena Rungo to Allegheny College in Meadville, Pa. Sara Zediker and Jennie Ferralli are attending Washington Seminary. Louise LeNassi is enrolled at Thiel College, while Christine Podboy and John Pedicord are attending Grove City College. Albert Wilson has deserted our fair city to enroll at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles. Jeaniva Allison and Josephine Watson are taking a beauty course at Pittsburgh. Donald Ralston is attending Wooster College, in Wooster, Ohio, and Glenn Harvey is enrolled at Missionary Institute in Nyack, N. Y.

Donald Blake is attending a Radio Engineering School in Pittsburgh. Addison Smiley is taking a course in Diesel Engines in Detroit, Michigan.

Three of the girls are training for nurses: Thelma Lucosky, in the Washington Hospital; Evelyn Knestrick, in Cook's Hospital, Fairmont, W. Va.; and Eleanor Schimmel in Canonsburg Hospital.

Many of the graduates have been fortunate enough to obtain jobs. Those working at one of the three Hazel-Atlas plants are: Wilda Clayton, Edna Crumrine, Emma Baer, Joanne Cimino, Mary Clark, Hazel Crowe, Frances Devenney, Harold Hunnell, David McCombs, Arthur Hart, Mary Bartusick, Eva Mae Charlton, William Heatley, John Mosier, Frank Sobansky, Floyd Peterson, Brooks Reynolds, Kenneth Truby, Charles Alexy, Marjorie McAllister, Helen Mrkvar, Eugene Thompson, and Eva Lou Higinbotham. Dominic Bellino, Lawrence Zanolli, Louis Oliver, Samuel Mazzie, and Edward Wright are working at the Jessop Steel. Martha Weirick is a stenographer in the office of Jessop Steel, and Harriet Scott is employed in the office of the Molybdenum Corporation. Doris Sten is Secretary to Dr. McDonough, M. D., Washington Trust Building.

Lawrence Cooper is Assistant Chemist in the Jessop Steel. Helen Deprosky is working at Tygart Valley Glass Company. Ray Weaver is employed at the Washington Tin Plate.

Margaret Brown and Ruth Brown are telephone operators in Washington. Jessie Craig is working in Boyer's Grocery Store. Ann McNatch is employed at Patterson and Robins General Store, and Joseph Drenick is working at the Dairy Store in Canonsburg. Paul Day is an attendant at Texaco Service Station. Kenneth Hager and Pete Ferralli are employed at the Duncan Miller Glass Company; Helen Bonham, at the Dollar Store; Ethel Dagg, Betty Martin, Helen Hartzell, Louise Bonnell, and Evelyn Walters, at Murphy's. Tony Tomazin is working at Guy Woodward's Garage. Harold Ward has undertaken the task of being a superb salesman. Kenneth Bayles is now an usher at the State Theatre. Wilbur Hager is employed at Warrick's greenhouse.

The following are working in a coal mine: George Ermacoff, Grover Mikesell, Frank Watassek, George Golubowsky, John Chunderlik, and Henry McCartney. The temporary farmers include James Day, Edmund Wylie, John Creighton, and Harry Dunn. Mathew Dykstra is employed at Whitinsville, Massachusetts. Mary Drakulich is waitress in a restaurant, and Mike Zubenko is a waiter in a Canonsburg restaurant. Edward Kern and Charles Wood claim the profession of clerks, and Donald McCartney is clerk at Gaido Brothers' in Meadowlands. Charles Skrabski is a machinist at the Carnegie Illinois Steel Corporation, at Homestead, Pa.

A few have joined the list of truck drivers. These are: William Howden, Victor Peternell, William Carpen, and Clarence Ewing. Fannie and Nick Kutz have moved to Detroit, Michigan. Vera Larkin, Grace Barrett, and Anna Paraska are doing housework. Edward Navoj is working in a steel mill in Detroit, and Patsy Guzzo is also employed there. John Zitko is Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue. John Frazee is employed at the Telephone Co.

Robert Ganier has gained the position of Assistant Manager of the Kennedy Cut Rate Drug Store on Jefferson Avenue. Bill McCrerey is employed at S. A. Meyer's Jewelry Store, Charleroi, Pa., and Parker Hootman is an orderly in the Washington Hospital.

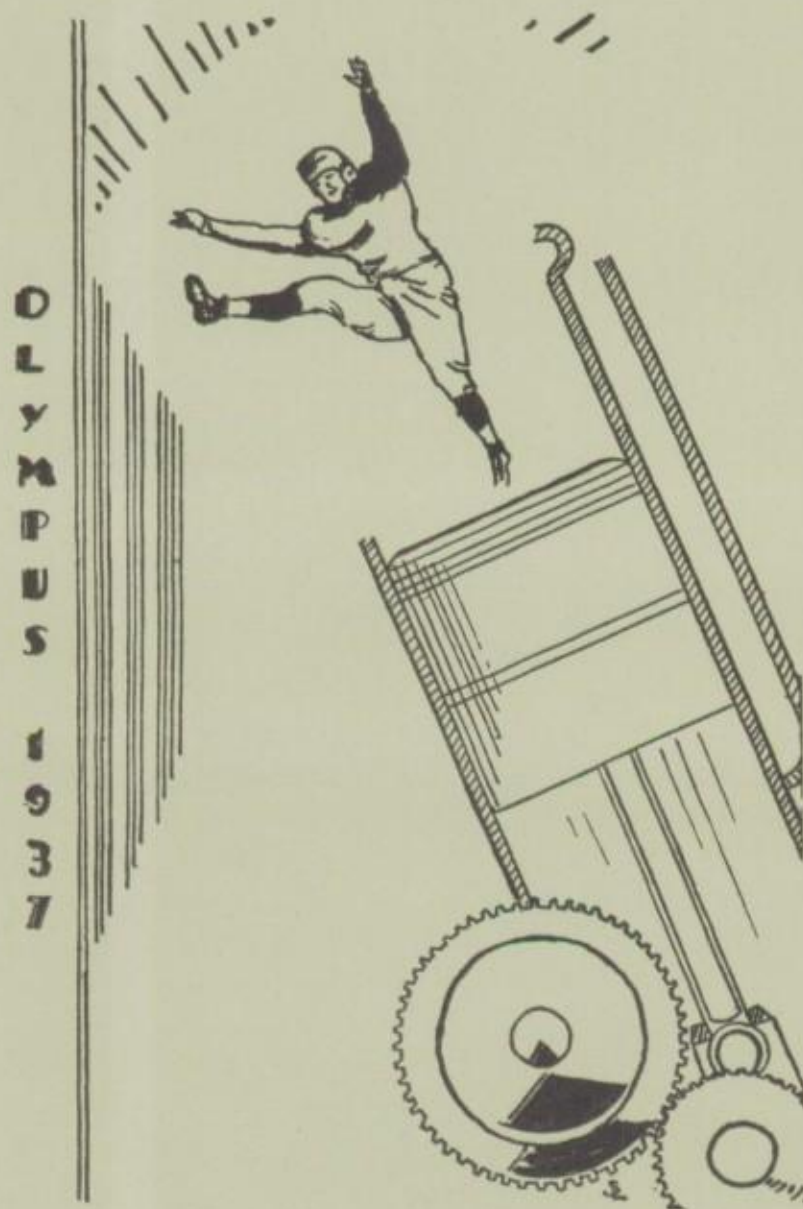

Muriel Horner is giving piano lessons, while Ruth Hazlett is continuing her music study at home.

Those staying at home when our information was obtained are: Jack Baker, Helena Bellino, Lydia Bigler, Eleanor Brice, Dorothy Hart, Jean McClenathan, Frances Johnson, Dolores Seiler, Ruth Berry, Betty Jane Brice, Naomi McCoy, Helen Paraska, Julia Day, Margaret Hunter, Stanley Sams, Donald Morrison, Henrietta Garbinski, Monica Jacob and Anthony Veltre.

Many of our former classmates have already reached the altar. These are: Martha Keys and Frank Reynolds, who are living in Detroit where Frank is employed in the steel mills; Mildred Newland and Bill Weirich; Mary Helen Allison and J. D. Smith; Elizabeth Dragan and Bob Franks; Florence Phillips and Glenn McAdams; Edward Wright and Helen Podboy; Lenore Elliott and Roy Hart; Carl Cooper and Martha Mankey; and Betty Horn and Woodrow Sowers.

We have been unable to obtain information concerning the rest of the Classes of 1935 and 1936. We hope that through this Alumni Section many will learn of their former classmates' whereabouts and will give us their support again next year.

—SIR HENRY NEWBOLT

Football Team

It is the easiest thing in the world to support a team that wins every game, but when one is called upon to support a team that enters every game with all the odds against it, one needs, must have plenty of patience and courage. This was the position Trinity's group of boys faced this year. However, such a fine spirit of loyalty and endeavor was shown by the members of the team that the defeats they suffered were of minor importance to their loyal supporters. Inexperience and lightness proved such a handicap to the boys that they were defeated in every game but the one with Clark High School.

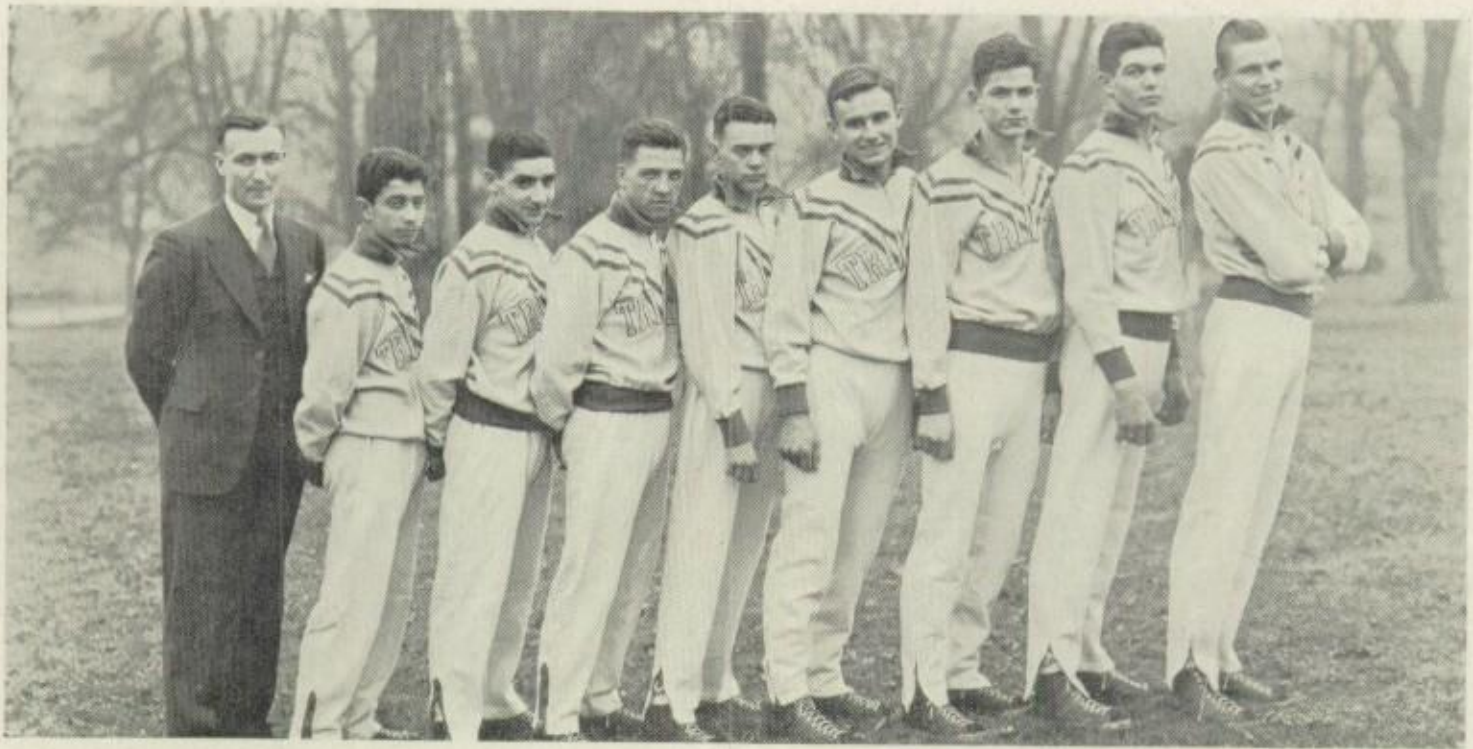

Graduation will again take many of the members of the team, but the reserves are waiting to prove their ability. Mr. Biery, the coach, was assisted by Mr. Moore.

Those who will graduate this spring are: Co-Captains, Roberts and Brown, Bevec, Tomsic, Belotte, Ferguson, Anderson, Kuntz, Martin, and Stevenson.

Varsity Basketball

Under the excellent coaching of Mr. Moore, the boys' basketball team won fourteen games and lost but six. Every boy on the team is to be congratulated for his fine playing and his support that made this successful season possible. The fact that Mr. Moore was a newcomer did not seem to trouble any of the boys. Co-operation on the floor contributed greatly to the successful season.

The varsity took second place in the Washington County Tournament. They defeated Canonsburg and East Bethlehem, but lost the third game with Charleroi by only two points. These games were exciting and very close.

Reserve Basketball

The reserve team consisted of the following boys: Carl Nawoj, Joe Urso, Ralph Ellis, Steve Ridosh, George Marra, Tony Spin, Pat Malone, Blair Ferguson, L. Smith, James Heatley. The team had a successful season and pulled the biggest upset of the season when they beat Washington High School Reserves by the score of 17 to 10. All the boys hope to make the Varsity squad this coming years. The Reserve team won eleven out of fifteen games, losing one game to Washington High School, Waynesburg, and two games to Canonsburg. Later in the season, the Reserve team was strengthened by the addition of John Roche and Bud Phillips to the squad. Nawoj and Urso having a little action in varsity games this last season, the Reserves hope to make as good a record, if not a better record, next year.

—CARL NAWOJ

Girls Basketball

"A task well begun is a task well done," seemed to be the motto of the girls' basketball squad when they started their successful campaign this season. Out of ten regular games played during the season, only one tie-game and one defeat keeps the record from being perfect.

The girls played exceptionally fine basketball this season and displayed a spirit of true sportsmanship at all times. Mary Cimino, a Senior member of the team, was handicapped by an injured knee for part of the season.

This year Trinity participated in the A. M. A. Tournament and defeated St. Georges and Burgettstown but was eliminated in the semi-finals by West Newton. Miss Kiblinger was often complimented by officials, coaches, and reporters upon the skill and sportsmanship of the girls.

—DOROTHY DAY

Managers

The managers are the "stooges" of the athletic teams. They must anticipate the wants and needs of the players and co-operate with and assist the coaches. They are placed in charge of the dressing rooms and assume responsibility for dispensing and collecting athletic equipment.

The managers this year are: Marjorie Post, Betty Dagg, Betty McBride, Patsy Manfredi, and Marion Anderson.

Baseball 1936

The baseball team had a rather difficult schedule but they came through with a fair record after tying Wash High, and winning games from East Washington, Waynesburg, and Bentleyville.

The team's co-operation was very good, and the spirit and morale of the team was excellent.

Early in the spring the team suffered from lack of experience, but, under the very capable coaching of Mr. Julius Biery, it soon developed into a smooth-running, hard-hitting group of boys who could hold their own with veterans.

—DAN BROWN

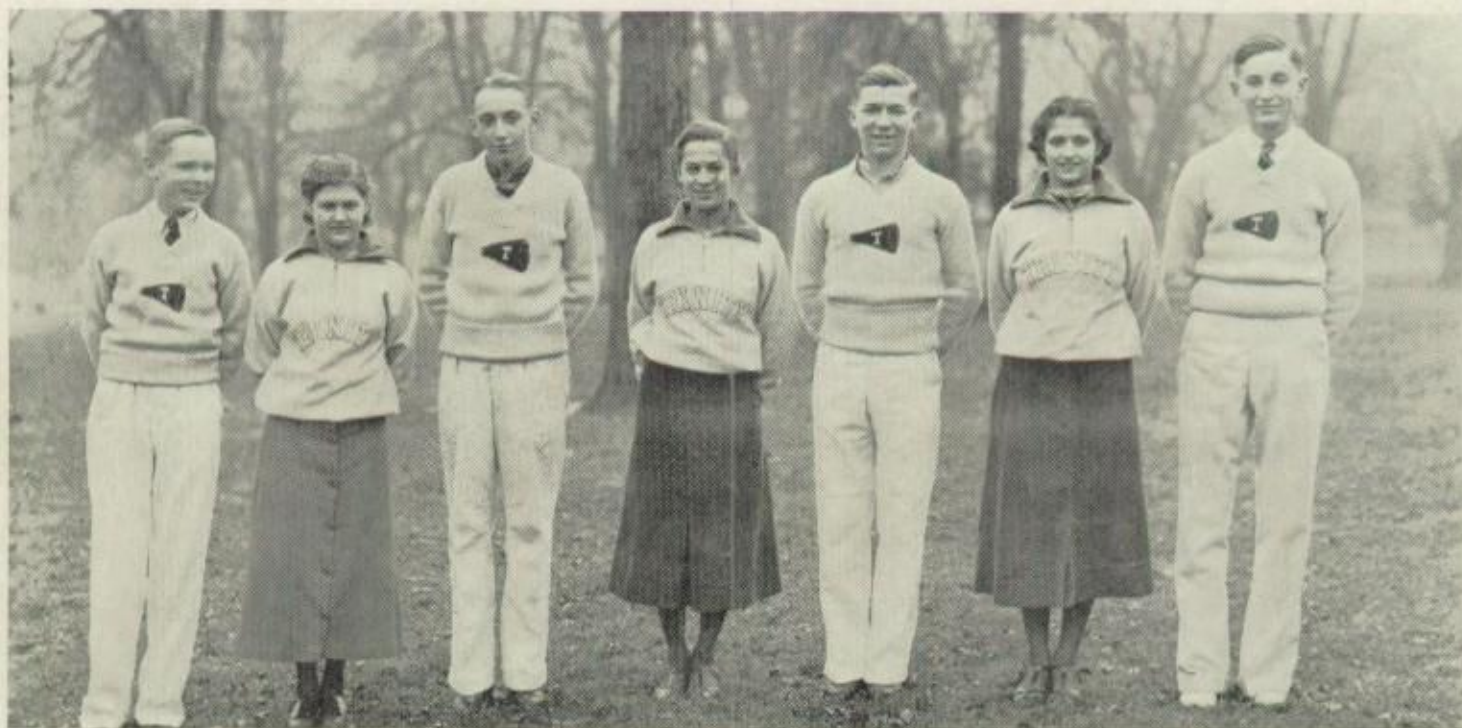

Cheerleaders

The cheerleading staff was augmented by six new members this year. Mary Cimino and George Fulton successfully filled the two senior vacancies. The tradition of electing two sophomore members to the staff was changed to electing four members. The new policy was started to put the senior membership on a more competitive basis and to stimulate greater activity by our sophomore and junior leaders.

It is the aim and purpose of the club to organize the spirited support of our teams and to develop strong, true sportsmanship of which Trinity may be proud. The sophomores elected are: Martha Ward, Katherine Dragon, Edwin Crosbie, and George Bryen.

In support of this staff there are two junior cheerleaders, Doris Barnickel and Ralph Ellis. Mr. J. R. Clark is the supervisor.

—MARY LOUISE CIMINO

"T" Club

BETTY CRAIG.....President
 JANE LAWRENCE.....Vice President
 HELEN POLEN.....Secretary-Treasurer

The "T" Club is an organization consisting of girls who have earned a script or block letter by participating in sports and extracurricular activities, and by maintaining a high scholastic standing.

The main event of the club is a banquet given in honor of the football squad. This is made possible by a dance held earlier in the fall.

—BETTY CRAIG

Intramural Sports

Boxing

The following boys were on the boxing team this year: Urso, Fazzolari, Craig, Merritt, Whitfield, Carman, Brownlee. These boys had one bout in which they all came out ahead. Under the coaching of Mr. Biery, they had a few practices which made them much better. Each boy boxed boys in his own class and had a successful season.

We hope that Trinity will have a better boxing team in the future.

—JOE URSO

Volleyball

This year marked the second season for Trinity Hi's volleyball team. The team was under the supervision of Mr. Julius H. Biery and had a very eventful year by winning games from Wash High, Burgettstown, the Y. M. C. A. and a W. & J. fraternity team.

Then entering the W. P. I. A. L. tournament at Pittsburgh, they won second place and silver medals by defeating New Kensington.

The members who constituted the squad were Bevec, Belotte, Tomsic, Martin, Roberts, Marra, Brown, Clark, and Mogentale.

ished to only two hundred twenty-two. We were not quite so flighty, and were ready to settle down to serious business. We took a great liking for extra curricular activities, some of us choosing sports—both girls and boys, and others of us joining clubs to which we were eligible.

Toward the close of the first semester we elected the following officers: President, Rudy Chehovin; Vice President, Milton Wilson; Secretary, Esther Barney; Treasurer, John Roche.

During the latter part of April we held our Sophomore Party, which we know was better than our Freshmen Party.

In September 1936 we entered Trinity as Upper Classmen! Our membership had now diminished to one hundred sixty three. Early in the year we elected officers and a new adviser, since Miss Thayer had resigned her position here. We chose Miss Amba Kiblinger to take Miss Thayer's place. Our officers chosen for this year were: President, Rudy Chehovin; Vice President, Tony Spin; Secretary, Frances Paul; Treasurer, Margaret Mazzie.

Our activities this year have been presenting a play, "Guess Again"; publishing four issues of "The Hilltop Gazette"; holding a class party and dance, and sponsoring the Junior-Senior Prom.

LITERARY

Of all those arts in which the wise excel
Nature's chief masterpiece is writing well.

—JOHN SHEFFIELD

Faulty

When I entered High School four years ago

I wasn't very smart.

And oh, the things I still don't know,

It almost breaks my heart

When I think of the chances that I've had

To acquire knowledge free,

Gosh, I've been a stupid lad

That's plenty easy to see.

The trouble was—it's an awful sign

But in this we're all so prone

It's very true to a much quoted line,

"He won't keep his nose to the stone!"

A remedy for this is hard to find.

But I'll try to be calm and cool,

I'll study hard—I've made up my mind

If I go on to school.

There's a moral, along with this jingle

I've decided to relate:

With all our troubles we usually mingle,

Until it's far too late—

To recover from disaster

And climb to higher ground

And use a healing plaster

Which is very seldom found.

So, when you undertake a job,

In the beginning do it right;

It will often prevent that wailing sob

That comes from disaster and plight.

A Chivalric L'Allegro

If I were given a day at ease
To do whatever it would me please
If 'twere in the power of God I'd go
Back to the days of long ago;
To knights in armor, to maiden fair,
To the castles with their lofty air,
To see the actors and the stage anon
While I, to miss nothing, rise with the sun.
From my castle window I see below
The horses prancing to and fro.
The cock is crowing far away
To announce the coming of the day.
The trumpet blows, the castle wakes,
Each of his breakfast now partakes.
The knight then dons his armor bright
To battle nobly for the right.
A page assists him on his horse
A maiden sheds a tear of remorse.
The portcullis raises, the drawbridge falls,
The knight has left the castle walls.
His fame and fortune, he will seek
In lowest valley, on highest peak.
Having eaten, with naught to do
We'll go hunting for a deer or two.
The air is crisp, the hunting fine
And, now, towards evening we go home to dine.
Coming home, we meet the knight.
His soul is filled with vast delight.
He has met the foe along the way
And conquered him this very day.
The night is near the shadows fall
As we approach the castle wall.
Tonight, a feast has been prepared
For all learned how the knight has fared.
The feast is done, we drink our ale
The knight is asked to tell his tale.
His story done, the fire dies down,
It reflects in the eyes of the sleepy clown.
Up and up the winding stair,
Slowly past the walls so bare,
Sleepily into bed I creep,
And soon I meet with slumber deep.
The day has seemed like a dream from heaven
But I'm glad I'm back in '37.

Senior Class Prophecy

SENIOR CLASS OF 1937

This is no great poem, but just a few lines
To mention all the Seniors' futures, if we find time.
And if you don't like our mention of you,
Just smile and laugh, but don't feel blue.
For we got all the "info" from Ali Ben Hagen,
Who, from a crystal, gives advice for the takin'.

Now the room darkens! Wait! What's this we see?
Patsy Manfredi, manager of the Boston Bees.
And lo! graduating from Duquesne, with highest degrees,
That's Wilhelmina Jefferson, if you please.
The shadow fades, but not for long—
Again old Ali rambles on.

"Louise Liston and Nell Butcher as nurses, kind and gentle,
Are always thoughtful and never tempermental.
And Gladys Gower's name in history is down;
For doing good deeds, she's a lady of renown.
Somebody's stenog was the call of Freda Hanam's heart,
And for Lawyer Edward Marks, we see she's doing her part."

The scene grows brighter, as Ali foretells
The great success of Lawrence Peternell.
"We see John Stavovy as a farmer, not a baker,
He gets plenty of grain from every little acre.
To pilot a plane was always their aim,
In that, Vester and Skowvron have gained much fame."

Ali exclaims, "Now what do I see!
A dancer on the stage is Helen Shawinski.
As Minister of the Gospel, Fred Rothenberg does preach,
Telling people of Heaven, a place that's hard to reach.
Ariel Ellwood her team does coach;
Her techniques are always above reproach."

Now the brightness of the crystal again grows dim.
He sees Gladys Hunter, Dean at Muskingum.
"Who's that? Mildred Brady and no other,
A second Gracie Allen, who talks of her brother.
As Stewardess of the S. S. P. A.
Jean Bigler is always happy and gay."

"And now, another five dollars, if you please.
I now behold the great Richard Pees.
A mechanic with General Motors, is Kenneth Ford,
He gained this fame of his own accord.
Florence Caton, who is known by her own sweet smile,
Now types at a desk and goes through a file."

Brighter and brighter the crystal does gleam.
 Ali says, "Jane Lawrence is on a professional team.
 Russell Podboy is owner of a ranch in the West;
 Of all the ranchers, he is known best.
 A great playwright is Mabel DeWitt;
 She picked a career that sure is her fit."

A shadow now crosses the great silver ball,
 But Ali Ben Hagen sees and tells all.
 "And there in a famous laboratory,
 Experimenting on a great discovery,
 Works a man both grave and sane;
 This is the noted chemist, Francis Cain."

"A very neat housewife, working all day,
 That's Anna Belle Bainbridge thinking it play.
 Esther Bayne now is a restaurant owner,
 And you may be sure she isn't a joner.
 And here is a lawyer of great renown,
 For Jack Belotte was never a clown."

"Another of ours—a modern homemaker—
 Is Anna Barrows, a cook and a baker.
 Joseph Thomas is a famous secretary,
 But once in a while he gets contrary.
 An office girl is Opal Cole;
 She digs into work, just like a mole."

"Dorothy Day's dreams have finally come true,
 For she has said the usual 'I do.'
 Blanche DeWitte, I too can see,
 In a white uniform looking at me.
 There's Thelma Dornberger as a basketball coach;
 Her vigorous assistant is Martha Roche."

"To give you this reading and make it just fit,
 Another five dollars will help quite a bit.
 Far into the future, I can see
 Another Gracie Allen from Trinity;
 This young lady is Lois McCoy,
 Although her last name now is Loy."

"Evelyn Andrews has neither broom nor mop,
 For she is the boss in a beauty shoppe.
 Dorothy Dykstra is a farmer's wife,
 But she doesn't chase mice with a carving knife.
 Anna Ferralli is teaching literature
 Even though she is so miniature."

"A beautiful manikin I can see,
 Rachel Fortney is in New York City.
 And Thelma Dunning is still her pal,
 Rachel says, 'She's a peach of a gal.'
 William Yereb is a contractor who is much sought,
 For in architecture he was well taught."

"Jane Green is so light and fair,
She's a chorus girl without a care.
Dorothy Johnston has gained neither fortune nor fame,
But to Mrs. Munn has changed her name.
A noted leader of a gay swing band,
Is Julia Kepics with her lively hand.

"Edla Hager is a cigarette girl
In a night club owned by Governor Earle.
Sophie Garbinsky chose to be a wife,
And now is living a happy life.
Caroline Hamil lives all alone
In her beautiful little country home.

"Frank Cook as a lad was very neat,
He now has a job at the county seat.
Marian Frazier, always jolly and gay,
Has never let a millstone fall in her way.
Virgil Hartley at his ease,
Still likes the little girls to tease.

The vision now is growing obscure
As Ali Ben Hagen repeats his lure.
We give him ten dollars, now, at this time,
And Ali again the praises does chime:
"Gay and petite is Eunice Bayles,
While through her debonair life she sails.

"Ethel Carlisle is charming and shy,
And she never stops to think of the 'why'
Mary Cimino, a gay dancer will be;
She has opened a school in Kansas City.
Betty Craig is known as every one's pal;
And Jack Martin still thinks she is a nice gal.

"Esther Sanders, who was never a preacher,
Has become a successful Commercial teacher.
Wilda Wilson and Sevilla Mitchell are five and ten workers;
At their duty they are never shirkers.
Sara McClenathan's career is one of average life
For she has settled down to be her husband's loving wife.

"Ruth McGowen has taken to aviation;
A T-erraplane caused this great sensation.
A G-Man of talent is Joseph Dobeck,
Who solves the mysteries by the peck.
Stella Lask is still just a blond,
And of her friends she's ever so fond.

"Graduating from Temple in the year of '41,
Betty Jeanne Knestrick's career has just begun.
Lois McKahan is still a gay lass,
She works at the Atlas, sorting glass.
Stenhouse and Minton as nurses aren't failing,
They know what to do when patients are ailing."

Ali still talks as the crystal does glow,
Each student reaps just what he did sow.
"Albert Wise is gifted as a court crier;
He sings out the names as if from a lyre.
Nick Suwak is now driver of a truck,
At this occupation he has had much luck.

"Betty Lawrence and Ethel Stewart have each other's heart;
Nothing, so far, has kept them apart.
I see Ada Lee Reynolds as a mathematician;
At her occupation, she's quite a magician.
Mary Porter is a clerk at Brown's on Main Street;
Her customers all think that she is a treat.

"There is Ida Mae Ponton in a large lobby,
But berry-picking is still her favorite hobby.
A neat little housewife is Cecilia Roble;
She does her work well, and her thoughts are all noble.
A very nice person is Dessie Mounts;
She knows her figures in all her accounts.

"Margaret Johnston is like Jennie Wren,
She still likes to chatter whenever she can.
Steve Pirozak is now Washington's Mayor;
In all his dealings, he always plays fair.
Edward Sharik is just another Longfellow;
His work is pathetic and so very mellow.

"Alvin Munn as a chauffer his life did not mar;
He was always a worker when he had a car.
Kathryn Manon is a prim little housewife,
She cooks very well without any strife.
Virginia Polen has fallen into Miss Flotto's way;
As a Girl Reserves sponsor, she now has her way.

"Joan Yorkin in Hollywood has the same name,
And as an actress, she has gained much fame.
Blair Wherry as a farmer is keen;
His horses like him because he's not mean.
Bud Anderson is a forest ranger, he works for the U. S. A.
He's always in the mountains, be it night or day."

Oh that crystal, how it does blaze.
For a moment it puts us in a daze.
"We see Coach Jacob Tomsic heading the sports news;
World football men like his fair views.
Elizabeth Pasterchalk is known for her books,
Just as she is known for her tidy looks.

"Emil Markow is recognized for his funny orations,
And as an amuser is sought by all stations.
Eleanore McAdams never took Latin to heart,
But with Virgil, now, she is doing her part.
Sasia Kutz lives in Detroit, far from here,
Even so far away, she has never a fear."

But now the vision is steadily failing,
And again old Ali for money is wailing.
A few dollars more makes it just right;
It sure is a good thing that we aren't tight;
"There is Ruby Spiegel playing her violin on the stage,
And, as you guess, she gets a good wage.

"Helen Polen is now in college; for good marks she does not grieve,
As she is among that few who highest honors do receive.
Marjorie Post wants to be a nurse, but will she this fulfill,
When the one thing she wants most is a guy by the name of Bill?
One thing Rea Hartley will never do is try to become a sailor,
Though it wouldn't surprise us if he became a second Taylor.

"Frank Bevec gives the people lots of joy and cheer;
He tends a little garden, in which he harbors beer.
Thomas Hughes is a grappler, of course you know the rest;
He won the heavyweight wrestling bout, and is now the world's best.
Edna Pratt is an air hostess, brave and daring;
She's never at home unless she is airing."

The light again dims but not for long,
For Ali is going just as strong;
And in Life's little Theater of Time,
He sees each one's life so very sublime.
"There's Alexander Lockman who dresses very fine,
For he's a big stock owner in the Lincoln Hill Coal Mine."

"Milo Drakulich is an accountant, his rating is very high;
He also is a detective, so when talking to him, don't lie.
Jack Gregg is a business man, the autos do not pass
When they see his advertisement, 'Buy that Good Gulf Gas.'
John Defazio is a factory man, he goes to work each day;
And, as an operator, he draws very good pay.

"Wayne Ferguson is a craftsman, his work is of matchless skill;
Anything he is asked to make, he can do it if he will.
As an actor at Trinity, Jack Martin was so good
That he now has a contract out in Hollywood.
Earl John leads an expert rifle team, they travel far and near;
They tour the U. S. A. once every other year."

Now the visions of the argent ball do wane;
Old Ali begs again, but not in vain.
As we give him five dollars, his mind again wanders,
And over the speculum he stops to ponder.
"Leona Harden is an interpreter, she's very hard to beat;
She works beside the President when foreign councils meet.

"Irwin Clemens works in a laboratory
And is always ready to tell a good story.
Bill Roberts likes gravel, but he likes sticks the most;
He's a clerk at the Keystone—and a prop to a 'Post'.
Raymond Polen is a mechanic with motors of every sort;
He also has a hobby which includes most every sport.

"In choosing his occupation, Ralph Rush was no fool,
For now he's teaching art in Trinity High School.
Robert Gayvert is a two-stepper, he teaches students to dance,
If they have an old pair of shoes in which to take a chance.
Frank Kuzy works as a pilot whenever he possibly can,
And when he's not doing this, he's radio's funny man.

"A dependable reporter is Frances Urbanik,
Always there to take notes, whatever the panic.
Jean Wolf, who is now Bud Anderson's wife,
Is now in the prime of a happy life.
A modern secretary is Mildred Zrimshak;
She takes all the notes and writes out the checks.

"John Wasieleski, a comedian so bright,
Keeps his crowds laughing on into the night.
An expert dietician is Margaret Redd;
She keeps many formulas in her head.
Of vocations, Sylvia Landrey has chosen the hardest,
For she is now living the life of an artist.

"Frank Chmiel took up a profession that was very hard to learn,
But now he's the chief executive in a big business concern.
Chalmer Cowen has a half interest in Carothers's dairy;
Half of the time he eats ice cream, the other half makes merry.
George Fulton is a draftsman, but from this course he'll swerve,
He'll be a politician, he surely has the nerve.

"Joseph Mogentale owns a steel mill, his business ability rates;
He's known as a business manager all over the States.
Amelia Kurpjuweit is a housewife, a stenog on the side,
Also a professional typist, so in the home doesn't always abide.
Ralph Kendall's profession comes straight from his heart;
He owns a cozy studio, in which he teaches art.

"Ruth Miller lives in the country, she is a farmer's wife;
Harry Morris and she together lead a happy life.
Dan Brown is governor of his state;
He'll reach the White House before he's forty-eight.
Frank Bell in his spare time drives a taxi-cab,
But the way he makes his living is by his gift of gab.

"A few more dollars will complete this great job,
And after all, there was quite a mob.
I see a trim little housewife, that is Opal Locy;
She keeps each little room so very neat and cozy.
Edward Clark is now in the U. S. Marine Band;
He helps make its music, stately and grand.

"A budding young genius, let's watch him flower,
William Mueller doesn't stop thinking just for a shower.
James Davis owns a dairy farm from which he does sell milk;
His income is such that if he wished, he could easily dress in silk.
Edward Kuntz is an orchestra leader, the quality of which is fine;
It's his delight to make the swing and make the swing in time.

"Kermit Bonner as a lawyer is wealthy and wise;
He wins all his cases without telling lies.
LeMoyne Banfield is a reporter of air scoop;
He always lets us know when Earhart makes a loop.
Dorothy Baker is still a very good girl;
She gives permanent waves and puts hair in a curl.

"Catherine Knestrick runs a comptometer, she never uses force;
She multiplies, adds, and subtracts, and she divides, of course.
Frank Rungo's a handsome guy, and might be a romancer;
But one thing he will always be is an excellent tap dancer.
Oscar Whitfield is master of a gay swing band;
His music is heard all over the land."

Alas! the crystal is again slowly fading,
And we're glad old Ali has not kept us waiting.
"Eli Janovich is the owner of a large dairy farm;
He always does his friends kind deeds, never any harm.
Walter Kozol has invented a new kind of machine;
It will read a mind, no matter how keen."

That is all Ali can see of our Senior Class now,
So he makes his exit with a quaint little bow.
For each and every Senior we think we've done our part,
If you don't think the same as we, don't take our lines to heart.
Our advisers, too, we must not forget;
For two as good and kind as they will never again be met.

There is loving Miss Campbell, we've found her so sweet;
She is the kind of a friend that is hard to beat.
As for Mr. Wilson, you all know how he rates;
He has been so very helpful, we can't blame him for our fates.
We hope that the same kind of happiness for each of you is in store,
And now with our parting wish, we shall say to you, "Au Revoir."

Senior Class Will

We, the Class of 1937 of Trinity High School, County of Washington and State of Pennsylvania, being of sound and disposing mind and memory, and realizing that we must part with sundry honors, talents and emotions, do hereby pronounce this our last will and testament:

Evelyn Andrews and Dessie Mounts will their quietness to Sarah Haines and Mildred Wilson respectively.

Annabelle Bainbridge wills to her sister her position in the cafeteria.

Jack Belotte wills his dramatic ability to Paul Day and his feminine attraction to Angelo Calli.

We bestow upon Bob Brown, L. Erwin Clemen's humor.

Opal Cole wills her ability to blush to Raymond Grimm.

The friendship of Thelma Dunning and Rachel Fortney is willed to Betty Dagg and Frances Paul.

Gladys Gown wills her mathematical ability to Betty Lewis.

Dorothy Johnston passes on to Eula May Allison her pleasant disposition.

Betty June Roche is just the person to inherit Marjorie Post's dignity.

Ada Lee Reynolds's friendliness and willingness to help others is passed on to Ada Ruse.

Frank Chmiel leaves his disability to write legibly to Carl Nawoj.

Nell Butcher passes her vivacity on to Margaret Schann.

Margaret Stenhouse passes on to Myrtle Kinder her interest in music.

Helen Shawinski turns over her library duties to Jean McClain.

Esther Sanders passes on her quiet charm to Esther Barney.

Amelia Kurpjuweit's ability in typing is willed to Mildred Spragg.

Sara McClenathan wills her seventeen-cent treasury from Room 14 to any Junior who will care for it next year.

To Margaret Mazzie we will Wilhelmina Jefferson's knowledge of typing.

Sylvia Landrey wills her brilliance to Mary Ermacoff.

To Betty McBride we will Anna Barrow's romance.

Steve Pirozak wills his quietness to Donald McKahan.

We will to Stewart McAllister, Ray Polen's bashfulness.

Betty Lawrence wills her typing ability to Pearl Ross.

James Davis bequeaths his mischievousness to Steve Lebnick.

Home Room

This year, through the efforts of the principal, Mr. Braden, the students of Trinity successfully planned a home room period for the purpose of promoting a real "Home Room Spirit." Every Tuesday after lunch, the members of each home room met together for the purpose of becoming better acquainted and, at the same time, of presenting programs planned to enlighten and to entertain.

Officers were elected for each semester; and as each room endeavored to make its organization the best, school profited in general.

The Home Economics Department

The purpose of our Home Economics Department, one of the highest ranking in the State of Pennsylvania, is to prepare our girls for the future and for better home making. Subjects studied are foods, clothing, home furnishing and decorating, child care, laundering, home nursing, and improvement in personality, appearance, etc.

This year the Home Economics Club, which had been discontinued for the past few years, was reorganized. Interesting and educational joint freshman and sophomore meetings are held semi-monthly. This club has held several social functions, including the Home Economics-F. F. A. Party, Halloween Party, and are planning future activities, including Vocation Day.

Our girls have edited the Home Economics corner of the Trinity Reporter under the management of Jean Bigler, Editor; Edith Kauffeld, Assistant Editor, and the managers of each division.

One hundred twenty-eight girls are on our roll under the instruction of Miss Anne Linn, Supervisor, and Miss Amelia Jones, Assistant Supervisor.

The Cafeteria

From the small beginning of this organization in 1930, it has grown until it is one of the largest and finest high school cafeterias in this section of the country.

We are assured that absolute cleanliness exists and that highest quality foods with properly balanced menus are available due to the supervision of Miss Linn who has succeeded Miss Thayer, an efficient teacher of last year. She plans the meals, does the marketing, keeps the books, and oversees the work in general.

The foods are prepared by Mrs. Barney with the co-operation of the Junior and Senior Home Economic girls, who are: E. Allison, A. Bainbridge, M. Bainbridge, E. Bayne, J. Bigler, M. Brady, G. Hunter, S. Kendall, M. King, L. Liston, K. Manon, E. McAdams, M. Redd, A. Stoner, V. Shrontz, V. Zoeller, and J. McClain. The course offers valuable experience to these girls, who receive free luncheons in return for their work in the cafeteria.

Home Economics Demonstration

Our Home Economics demonstration this year was entitled, "Let's Talk Salads." It was presented by Jean Bigler, a senior; Carrie Wilson, a junior; and Marianna Mueller, a freshman. Burndetta Kauffeld, also a freshman, was alternate and manager.

On Wednesday, January 20, we placed a very tempting array of salads before the judges at the State Farm Show Building at Harrisburg.

Our salads were placed on a two-shelfed stand, just opposite our salad clock, also on a two-shelfed stand holding a salad cupboard and baskets of fruit.

We were happy to be awarded second place in the state. Our demonstration was supervised by Miss Linn and her assistant, Miss Jones.

Member of national organization for boys studying Vocational Agriculture.

After the initiation of a group of approximately thirty-five budding Freshmen the Trinity Chapter of Future Farmers of America launched forth on another year of varied activity.

One of the outstanding accomplishments of the year has been the publication of a school paper "The Trinity Reporter." Its publication started in October and has been continued monthly throughout the school year. In appearance the paper closely resembles the "Keystone Farmer," which was published by this Chapter in 1932. However, the objective of the present paper is slightly different in that we aim to make it of interest to every student in the school by including the activities of each class, club and

Boys Demonstration

Following the course outlined by our predecessors, we, the Agriculture Department, turned out "en masse" for the tryouts for the demonstration team. Mr. Day, Mr. Billick, and Mr. McClay acted as judges and selected Harry Morris, Richard Baker, Rudolph Chehovin and Lewis Kenamond as the group to carry on for our school.

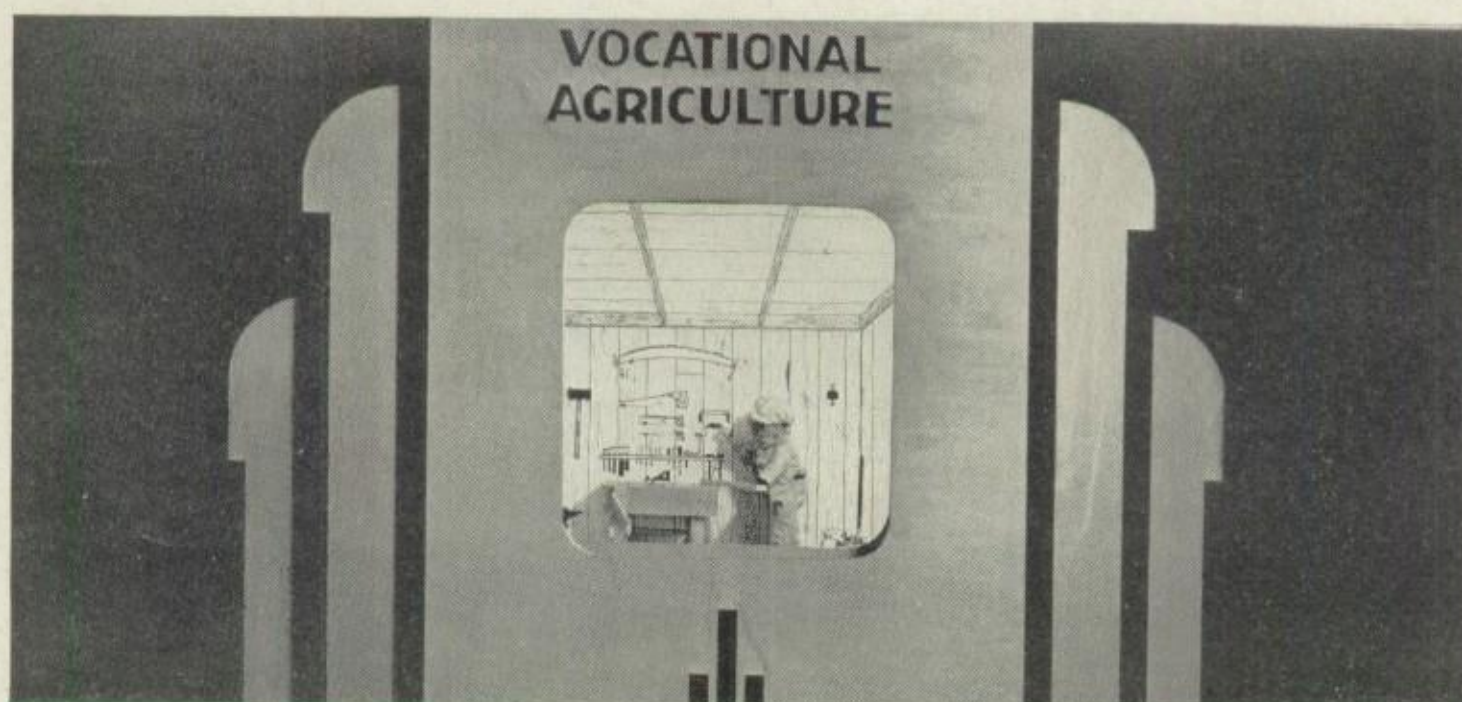

"Beautifying the Farmstead" was the title of our demonstration this year, and we began practicing early in November under the coaching of Mr. McClay. We worked hard and prepared a good demonstration. We first planned an ideal farmstead and then planted trees and shrubs in artistic arrangements for our audience—of course, not in reality, but in miniature. We had a collection of small pines on the stage with us and demonstrated to the audience several informal arrangements of planting.

When our demonstration was presented at the Farm Show, Tuesday, January 21, at 2:30 o'clock, it was received with great applause, and we members of the team were sure that we had made a "hit". However, the judges evidently thought otherwise, for when the final results of the demonstrations were published, we found that out of the 44 that were presented, we were given fifteenth place. Of course we were disappointed in not getting a higher rating, yet the primary purpose of our demonstration was to present an educational demonstration—some facts that would be of use to our audience. That, I believe, was accomplished.

Exhibit

The Trinity High School Agricultural Department succeeded in placing a Vocational Agriculture Exhibit at the Pennsylvania State Farm Show again this year. This exhibit, one of seven, was selected from scores submitted by High School Agricultural Departments from all over the State. "Farm Skills Through Practice" was the theme of the Exhibit which was built in the school shop under the direction of Mr. D. R. McClay. The judges awarded this exhibit sixth place and a cash prize of $32.50.

Library

The library staff had twenty-three members this year. These student librarians, under the supervision of Miss Mary Louise Martin, take charge of the library and perform the routine duties of a librarian. They are taught not only to sign out books for students use, but also to repair books, to check overdue books and collect fines, to prepare new books to be put on the shelves, to classify books as to their subjects, to arrange books in order on the shelves, and to do research for teachers and students. This group has been very capable and willing in their efforts to serve the student body and to make our library as efficiently managed as possible.

The fifteen hundred books in our library consist of many reference books, two hundred books on history, two hundred fifty books on science, two hundred books on civics and economics, two hundred books on literature, and three hundred fifty fiction books. All the books in the library are arranged according to the Dewey classification.

We were very fortunate to have the W. P. A. this year repair books from the library. They did wonders by changing two hundred old, worn books into attractive, durable ones—making them our closer friends.

We feel sure that in the future the library will increase in the number of books and in popularity with the student body.

The Trinity Beta Hi-Y Club started the year with twenty members. The first business of the club was to choose its new members. This is done according to the usual custom of voting in, on the basis of scholastic rating, those boys who are eligible. After the candidates had undergone an informal and formal initiation, they were declared members of the club.

Our Vice President, Raymond Polen, was elected to the Hi-Y Council at an early rally in Claysville. This council meets regularly to discuss problems common to all Hi-Y Clubs.

A number of speakers contributed to our club programs. Among these were: Mr. Wilbur Baird, Mr. Brady Marble, and Mr. J. W. Moninger, all of the Washington Y. M. Continued on Page 100

New members were informally and formally initiated into the club at the beginning of the first semester and again at the beginning of the second semester. Meetings were held every two weeks at the Y. M. C. A. where the use of the game room and swimming pool was permitted. The club has had an active year, sending delegates to the Hi-Y conference at Canonsburg, having several parties, and holding one dance. The purpose of the Junior Hi-Y Club is to create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character.

MISS M. L. MARTIN		Adviser

Inspired by the Girl Reserves purpose "To Find and Give the Best," many original ideas were carried out in this year's club work. The girls took part in many activities; as, a court trial, an informal initiation; a musical comedy, "Rose of Tokio"; Christmas social service work, making scrap books and supervising a party for pre-school tots; attendance at a winter conference in New Castle; a chilli supper; Patriot and St. Patrick's Day dances; discussions; an Easter breakfast, devotionals and morning services; also various joint parties with the Hi-Y Club.

The May Day celebration, which is sponsored by the Girl Reserves has become an annual event in which all the students of the school participate. The students vote for the Queen of the May, and her attendants are chosen from the club.

Because of an increasingly number of interested members and the splendid leadership of the officers, the club enjoyed a very successful season.

The Freshman Girl Reserves

The Freshmen Girl Reserves met and organized in the fall. The following officers were elected:

ELIZABETH MRKVAR	President	ALBERTA GREEN	Secretary
VERDA BRIDGES	Vice President	EVELYN DURBIN	Treasurer

Miss Irwin acted as our faculty adviser, and Miss Floto, the new secretary at the Y. W. C. A., acted as our adviser there. Those who were able to come to the meetings enjoyed every one of them. We also held several enjoyable parties, at one of which we entertained the Junior Hi-Y boys.

Our purpose is "To face life squarely." We are proud to belong to such a fine organization.

Hilltop Gazette

The Junior Paper Staff this year was one of the most co-operative on record. With such a spirit and with the direction of their capable class advisers, Miss Kiblinger and Mr. McClay, they were successful with all four issues of their paper. The student body gave the paper wonderful support, for which the staff is very grateful.

Perhaps the staff seemed pretty "snoopy" at times, trying to get some inside gossip, but it was all in fun. The reporters on sports, clubs, and other activities were very thorough, for they themselves were in on everything. The features were exceptionally good this year because of the natural originality of the feature editor.

This is the fourth class which has published a Junior paper at Trinity. With better equipment, keener competition, and greater interest on the part of the whole school, the paper has been better in quality each year. We extend our best wishes for continued improvement and success to future paper staffs.

Rifle Club

The Trinity Rifle Club, which was organized in February, 1935, is completing its third successful year. This year's membership numbers twenty-three, and every member is doing his utmost to carry out the aims of the club and to uphold the record set by the club in the two previous years.

Through the courtesy of National Stores Company, the club has the use of the range in the store basement and holds weekly practices there. Ammunition and targets are provided by small weekly fees paid by the members.

A method of individual rating, introduced by Mr. John, our adviser, has aroused keen interest and a lively competition among the members. The ten members with the highest ratings make up the team for matches with other clubs. The club is scheduling a number of matches and expects to compete for the county trophy.

The Stamp Club was organized in November, 1936, for those who were interested in stamp collecting and stamp trading. The club advanced rapidly in the collection of different stamps and was aided by Mr. J. H. Wilson, who secured many stamps from outside sources. The members met in Room 6 Wednesday every second week. The club this year, was very active, and, with the co-operation of fellow students, secured many valuable stamps. This year the club did very well, and it is hoped that next year many more members will be added to our roll.

—ROBERT BROWN

Commercial Club

This year the Commercial Club has adopted a new policy in its membership and purpose. Senior students whose grade average in commercial subjects is 2.5 or above are eligible for membership. A very fine group has worked especially hard to make the club worthwhile. As well as supplying each member of the faculty with private secretarial service, the club undertook the publication of the Trinity Hi-Book, a student handbook. The club hopes to establish the publishing of this handbook as a tradition.

The club members are eager to gain practical experience which they feel will help them in the business world.

Traffic Squad

The traffic squad of Trinity High School is an organization of upper classmen chosen to direct and instruct new pupils to observe the laws regulating traffic about the school. It is the duty of this squad to see that traffic is directed as orderly and efficiently as possible. At present the squad consists of nineteen boys situated at certain places to regulate traffic both in the halls and outside. At the beginning of the school term the members of the squad were presented with armbands, signifying that they were members of the student patrol. The squad appreciates their duty for they realize that they are being of great benefit to their school.

The Senior Class Play-1936

"THE YANKEE KING"

By E. S. DAY

The Class of 1936 was very proud to be able to produce a play written by their director, Mr. E. S. Day. The story of a man who dreamed he was king and the difficulties he experienced provided an evening of delightful entertainment. The following cast's effective acting contributed largely to the success of the play: Cleo Gray, Monica Jacobs, Betty Martin, Ruth Mounts, Eleanor Schmiel, Evelyn Walters, Robert Ganier, Otto Koehler, Paul Kucher, William McCrery, Dominic Mancini, Kenneth Truby, and William Weirich.

Girls Chorus

The Girls' Chorus has improved very much this year. Many more girls have joined, making a total of sixty in the chorus.

We have taken part in many assembly programs, have sung at the First Christian Church in Washington, and have participated in the Washington County Music Contest at Bentleyville, receiving second place.

We are now practicing for an operetta entitled, "In Old Vienna," to be given early in May.

We wish the chorus next year even greater success and more improvement.

—JEAN BIGLER

Boys Chorus

At the beginning of the school year, the Boys' Chorus consisted of about twelve boys. At the beginning of the second semester this number was increased to approximately twenty-five, and each boy has given Mr. Schmidt very fine co-operation.

The chorus has made several appearances this year. They sang in several district churches and in student assemblies. In addition, the chorus was entered in the County Music Contest, in which they came out near the top with the second place. The chorus will play an important part in the forthcoming operetta and also in commencement exercises.

It may truthfully be said that the Boys' Chorus this year has been the best Trinity has ever produced.

—FRANCIS PETERSON

Band And Orchestra

Although many important members of the band and orchestra were lost by graduation, their places have been ably filled by the oncoming Freshmen and upper classmen. The band enlivened the proceedings at pep meetings and assemblies, and also played at all home football games. As the season progressed, the band gradually merged into an orchestra by the addition of violins. The orchestra, this year, is bigger and better than ever, we think. Although the number of members is limited, it is the quality that counts. We are rapidly progressing under the leadership of Mr. Schmidt; and, having already played in assemblies, we also are, in the future, going to play in the operetta, at commencement and hope to play in many other social functions of the year. As very few of the band and orchestra will be lost this year by graduation, next year we will have both quality and quantity.

—STEWART McALLISTER

The Trinity Reporter

"The Trinity Reporter" is a monthly paper issued by the Trinity Chapter, Future Farmers of America. The first issue was put on sale in November, and it has been successfully published every month since.

"The Trinity Reporter" has three aims; they are: To give the students training in paper publishing and related activities; to give the school a much needed monthly paper; to give the F. F. A. publicity in school and throughout the state.

Financing the paper is most complicated, but we succeeded in selling advertisements to patrons and friends of the school. The income from these advertisements added to the selling price of the paper has made the paper self-supporting financially.

We expect to keep this paper going next year because we think it is a good plan.

—HARRY S. MORRIS, Editor

Senior Play-1937

After a month of practice the Seniors produced their successful play, "Growing Pains" by Aurania Rouverol. The enthusiasm with which it was received at both performances proved that both the play and the acting were excellent.

Delightful humor pervaded the play and aided its presentation. George and Terry McIntyre found themselves tossed in the cataracts of adolescence and were reluctant to heed the advice of their bewildered parents. The end, of course, was bright and promising.

May Day Festivities

Trinity's spacious campus forms an ideal background for the May Day festivities. May Day was first held in 1934, and is fast becoming a cherished tradition of the school. The Girl Reserve Club is the sponsor of this beautiful and impressive ceremony.

The nominees for May Queen are chosen by the senior boys from among the senior girls. The qualifications of a Queen are: beauty, poise, personality, friendliness and loyalty. The entire school votes upon this list of nominees, and the girl who receives the highest number of votes has the honor of becoming the Queen of the May.

May Day Festivities

The Girl Reserves form an aisle through which the procession passes. The members of the Queen's court are: Maid-of-honor, Beauty, Personality, Poise, Loyalty and Friendliness, Spirit of Trinity, Spirit of Spring, Class Attendants, Flower Girls, Crown Bearer, Heralds, Pages and May Pole dancers.

Each year the May Day festival has gained the attention of many visitors and patrons of the school until even our facilities are taxed to care for those attending the ceremony.

organization. Thus far, the "Reporter" has been well received by the students, alumni and patrons, and we hope to be able to continue our venture with even greater success.

Another accomplishment of the chapter was the winning of third place in project contest sponsored by the Department of Public Instruction. In doing this we had a total of ten winning projects.

Three of our members were awarded the honorary Keystone Farmer degree at the annual meeting of the Keystone Association of Future Farmers of America held in connection with the Pennsylvania Farm Show at Harrisburg. The three who were so honored are Dan Brown, Harry Morris, and John Stavovy. Harry Morris was elected secretary of the Keystone Association.

Albert Bigler and Richard Baker were chosen from among our ranks to play in the Keystone Band which entertained almost one-half million visitors at the 1937 Farm Show. This band is composed of one hundred pieces, and its members are chosen from various F. F. A. Chapters.

The Chapter is now busy selling seeds to help finance the sending of judging teams to the annual Future Farmers' week which will be held at State College in June. The Chapter will send approximately twenty representatives to participate in the various contests.

talks on various subjects, pertinent to college life, by several members of the Club. A brief resume of all the colleges in which members of the Club were interested was reported by the information committee. The program committee, headed by Helen Polen, has done much to furnish the Club with interesting programs throughout the year.

The social events of the season have been: Candlelight Service for the initiation of seventeen new members; a Halloween Party in the dining room; Christmas Party with gifts for all, held in the new music room, and a very impressive Afternoon Tea in honor of the Seniors on Valentine's Day, by the Juniors of the Club.

Miss Ruth Zediker is Adviser to the Club.

Senior Hi-Y

C. A.; Dr. James B. Anderson and Mr. Adam Sanders, of W. J. College; and Mr. E. S. Day and Mr. James Clark, of Trinity High School.

The club engaged in numerous activities which included the building and giving of a Ping-Pong table to the school. Our social activities consisted of a Hi-Y dance; two parties for the Trinity Girl Reserves, who in return held one in our honor; and a Best Girl party for Hi-Y members only.

Trinity was ably represented at the State Conference at Harrisburg by our leader, Mr. E. V. Ross, and our Vice President, Raymond Polen. We were entertained later by hearing about their interesting experiences in the capital city. At the Southwestern Older Boys Conference, held this year at Canonsburg, Trinity was also well represented. Our club sent six delegates who returned with interesting reports about the managing of other Hi-Y Clubs.

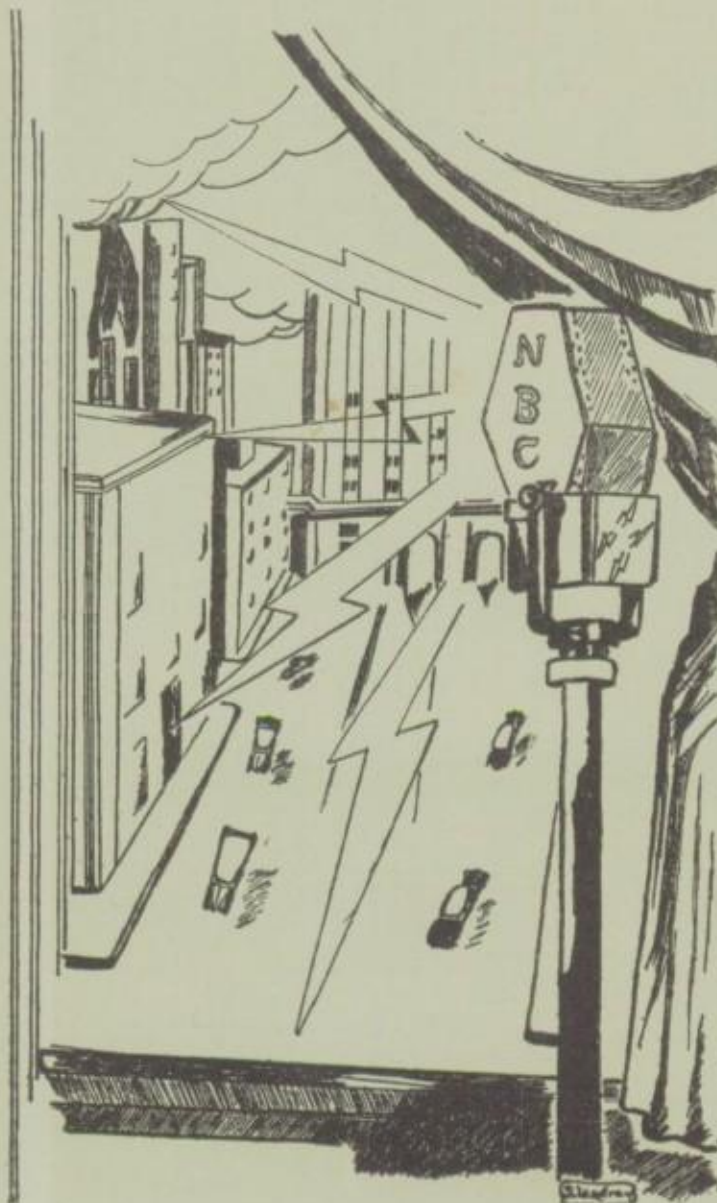

On February 22, forty boys went to visit the Y. M. C. A. in Northside, Pittsburgh. The boys owed their delightful trip to our faculty member, Mr. R. K. Paxton, through whom the invitation was received.

March 23 was the date on which the club had charge of devotions during a Hi-Y Rally at Cecil.

The club has enjoyed a most successful and inspiring year. It is earnestly hoped that it will continue to prosper in the future.

EVERYTHING TO BUILD ANYTHING

YOU'LL NEED IT SOME DAY

There will come a time when adequate Life Insurance protection will be as vital to you as the clothing you wear and the food you eat.

This being true, it seems logical to start now, in youth, to erect this barricade against many of the hazards to which man is exposed.

The Prudential has policies especially devised for younger men, to enable them to get a "flying start" in acquiring protection.
